Cookie policy

We use cookies and similar technologies on timechimp.com, terms.timechimp.com, and in our applications.

1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files on your device. They help us run websites and apps, measure usage, and (where you consent) improve marketing.

2. Which cookies we use

Type	Purpose	Examples
Necessary	Sign-in, security, fraud prevention, core functionality	Session cookies, authentication
Preferences	Remember language, region, cookie choices	Cookie preference panel
Analytics	Usage and performance insights (often anonymised)	Google Analytics, Application Insights
Marketing	Measure campaigns and ads (only with consent where required)	Advertising and social media pixels

The exact cookies may change when we update our services. We will update this policy when needed.

3. Consent

Where the law requires consent, we ask via our cookie preference panel on the website. We place necessary cookies to deliver the service. We place analytics cookies only after you have given consent via the cookie preference panel.

4. Retention

Session cookies expire when you close the browser. Persistent cookies remain until they expire or you delete them. Retention varies per cookie; see the preference panel where available.

5. Managing cookies and withdrawing consent

You can manage cookies and change or withdraw your consent via:

- a. our cookie preference panel on timechimp.com (always available via cookie settings on the website);
- b. your browser settings (block or delete).

Withdrawing consent is as easy as giving it. Note: some features will not work without necessary cookies.

6. Third parties

Some cookies are set by partners (e.g. analytics or advertising). We are responsible for cookies on our domains and inform you about them. More on how we handle personal data: privacy statement.

7. Changes

We may update this cookie policy. The current version is at terms.timechimp.com/en/cookie-policy.

(This cookie policy is effective as of 01-06-2026.)
